

Accord Dublin is now Relationship Care

A new name, a new chapter, the same trusted support.

Relationship Care (formerly known as Accord Dublin) provides professional, accessible, and preventative education and counselling support for relationships of all kinds, from childhood to adulthood. Building on six decades of experience, our new Trading Name speaks clearly to who we are and what we do, helping us to raise awareness of our much needed services.

Research has shown that the name Accord Dublin is not a brand in its own right and is not recognised or understood by our diverse communities in the Greater Dublin area. The name Relationship Care helps remove those barriers to engagement, clearly communicating the warm, accessible, inclusive and professional nature of our services.

The mission, vision and values of Accord Dublin in providing our marriage and relationship care services to all in need across the greater Dublin area remain steadfast and unchanged; working with agencies of the Catholic Church and the public, private and charities sectors caring for individuals and couples facing the challenge of marriage and relationships and helping to sustain and enrich positive relationships.

Relationship Care is a new chapter: clearer, stronger, and more visible in our communities. We are asking community and partner agencies, funders and referrers to help raise awareness of our services by promoting The Couple Therapy and Education Centres by Relationship Care in your schools, communities and networks. If you know of anyone who may need our services, please refer them to relationshipcare.ie or email hello@relationshipcare.ie. Together, we can promote relationship health, prevent crises, protect children and strengthen families.
